Ofer Cohen, formerly a senior broker at Massey Knakal Realty Services, has left the firm to start a new one. Called TerraCRG LLC, the new company will focus exclusively on commercial, industrial and retail sales and leasing in Brooklyn.

Cohen, who set up his offices in the industrial area of Sunset Park, said, "We are confident in the Brooklyn market and believe this is one of the most exciting places to practice commercial real estate brokerage."

He was director of sales for the Sunset Park market at Massey Knakal where, in less than three years, he sold hundreds of thousands of square feet of commercial property and quickly established himself as an industrial expert for the Brooklyn market.

"I am going to focus on the South Brooklyn area, which includes Sunset Park, Red Hook, Gowanus and Park Slope, while recruiting senior brokers to help TerraCRG achieve complete coverage of the borough," he said. "We believe our business is about people and relationships and so we plan to attract the best people in the industry by combining a unique entrepreneurial platform with best-of-breed marketing infrastructure."
